SUMI BRUSHES

Unlike watercolor, oil and most other paintbrushes, Orthodox Calligraphy brushes are composed of two separate parts. The central core, which determines the height and basic function of the brush, is made of relatively stiff hairs gathered to form a tapered point. The outer wrapping consists of softer hairs which are selected for their greater water-holding capacity and for facilitating smooth strokes. The consistent length of the hair structure ensures smooth maneuverability and dynamic strokes whether light or heavy pressure is applied. Measurements are the size of brush heads. Set includes CC1B, CC3B & CC5B (which is not sold separately, measures 3/8" x 2")
